1. ABOUT GULF UNIVERSITY

1.1 Introduction

Gulf University (GU) is a distinguished private higher education institution located in the Kingdom of Bahrain. Established in 2001 with a vision to provide high-quality education, GU caters to a diverse student body from Bahrain, the GCC, and internationally. The university is committed to fostering a multicultural environment that promotes academic excellence, creativity, and innovation.

GU is accredited by the Higher Education Council (HEC) of Bahrain and has met the terms of the Education & Training Quality Authority (BQA), ensuring that its programs and practices adhere to rigorous quality standards. The university's core values of excellence, collaboration, continuous development, creativity, diversity, and sustainability are embedded in its academic and administrative functions.

1.2 President's Message

Dear Gulf University Students,
Gulf University has never taken lightly the moment when a new group of students walk through its doors, and this year is no different.

It is with great pride and genuine warmth that I welcome you to Gulf University. When we founded this institution in 2001, our goal was simple: we did not just want to fill seats or hand out diplomas. We wanted to cultivate people who were truly ready for the world.

We envisioned graduates who think deeply, act responsibly, and understand that their contributions carry real weight. That vision remains the heartbeat of this university today, just as it was on our very first day.

We are living in a time of remarkable transformation. AI is no longer a concept for the future; it is here, reshaping the landscape of nearly every industry you might choose to enter.

The global economy is shifting in ways that make adaptability your most valuable asset. At Gulf University, we are not waiting for the world to change; we are actively leading the way. We have made the deliberate choice to embrace artificial intelligence not just as a tool, but as a foundational part of how we teach, learn, and solve the problems that matter most.

While we are deeply rooted here in the Kingdom of Bahrain, your education is designed to open doors across the globe. Our global academic partnership with the University of Northampton, UK, ensures that your education at Gulf University is not only firmly grounded in the Kingdom of Bahrain or the wider Gulf region, but internationally benchmarked and globally recognized.

The faculty who will guide your journey are selected globally for more than their academic credentials. They are esteemed practitioners, researchers, and experts in the very fields you aspire to join. Your time here will be defined by learning that is not just theoretical, but deeply connected to the reality of the professional world.

Gulf University holds a meaningful position within the Kingdom of Bahrain's vision for growth, innovation, and human development. We ensure that every student leaves with something truly valuable, not simply a qualification but a genuine capability, the confidence and the tools to make a real impact.

This handbook is your guide to the path ahead. It is your roadmap for the journey ahead. We trust you will approach it with the attention it deserves, and that you will approach the years ahead with the seriousness this opportunity warrants.

We welcome you, wholeheartedly, to this vibrant and future-oriented community of intellectuals and we cannot wait to see what you achieve.

Professor. Mohanad Al-Firas

President of Gulf University

4. ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

4.1 Admission

Gulf University welcomes applications from qualified students for both undergraduate and postgraduate programs.

Undergraduate Admission Requirements: -

GU's admission criteria and processes are in line with HEC regulations which are:

The applicant must have a high-school certificate or an equivalent, or a certificate from an applied technical or industrial institute or an equivalent, according to the regulations of the Ministry of Education in the Kingdom of Bahrain. The high-school certificates must be in any of the following branches- Science, Commercial, Industrial, Arts.

Placement test mentioned in admission criteria/ entry requirements for each program reflect that these are designed to measure the knowledge and skill of the applicants to study the programme. There is specialized interview for Bachelor in Mass Communication program and Bachelor in Law program.

In order to enroll in the program, applicants are required to complete the English Language Proficiency Test. This identifies the strengths and weaknesses of applicants in the English language through the measurement of the receptive and productive skills of the applicants, namely: listening, reading, speaking and writing. For undergraduate program, applicants are exempted from the English Language placement test if they can present a valid acceptable grade in any of the following: "TOEFL [550 Paper-Based Test (PBT) / 79 Internet-Based Test (IBT)]", "International English Language Testing System (IELTS): (5.5)", "Cambridge English: First (FCE) 60%" or an equivalent.

The university follows a fair and transparent admission process that ensures equal opportunities for all qualified applicants regardless of their background, nationality, or other personal characteristics.

Admission-Policy-1.pdf

4.2 Registration and Enrolment

All students must register for courses each semester according to the academic calendar and university procedures. Students are required to meet with their academic advisors before registration to ensure appropriate course selection and academic planning.

The university follows enrolment policy and procedures that outline the processes for course registration, add/drop periods, withdrawal procedures, and academic load requirements. Students must maintain continuous enrolment to remain in good academic standing.

Enrolment-Policy.pdf

Enrolment-Procedures-V3.3-January-2025.pdf

4.3 Mode of Delivery

All Programs are delivered face to face on full time basis unless stated otherwise.

4.4 Student Attendance

If a student's absence exceeds 25% of the total course hours, the student will be withdrawn from the course and will not be allowed to attend the final examination. The consequences of withdrawal depend on the nature of the absence:

Unexcused Absence: If the absence is without a valid and accepted excuse, the student will receive a grade of "WF" (Withdraw Fail) for the course, which will negatively impact the student's grade point average.

Excused Absence: If the absence is due to a legitimate and accepted reason supported by appropriate documentation, the student will receive a grade of "W" (Withdraw) for the course, which will not affect the grade point average.

Enrolment-Procedures-V3.3-January-2025.pdf

4.5 Academic Calendar

The academic year consists of two main semesters (Fall and Spring) and optional summer semester. Each semester includes specific periods for registration, classes, examinations, and breaks. The academic calendar is published annually and includes all important dates and deadlines.

4.6 Assessment

Gulf University employs wide range of assessment methods to evaluate student learning and achievement. Assessment is designed to measure student progress toward achieving course learning outcomes and program learning outcomes.

Assessment-Policy

Assessment Procedures

4.6.1 Assessment Methods

The university uses both formative and summative assessment methods, including written examination, assignment, course final project, reflective report, learning journal, presentations, research report and practical work. Assessment methods are aligned with course learning outcomes and provide students with opportunities to demonstrate their knowledge and skills in a comprehensive manner.

4.6.2 Deferred and Late Assessment

Students who are unable to complete an assessment due to legitimate and unexpected circumstances may apply for a deferred or late assessment. Applications must be submitted with appropriate documentation and are subject to approval by the relevant academic authorities.

Deferred-and-Late-Assessment-Procedures

4.6.3 Assessment Appeal

Students who believe that their work has not been assessed fairly may appeal the assessment decision. The university has a formal procedure for handling assessment appeals, which ensures fair and impartial review of student concerns.

Assessment Appeal Procedures

4.7 Internship

The internship program at Gulf University provides students with practical, real-world experience in their field of study. The program is designed to bridge the gap between theory and practice, and to prepare students for successful careers.

All students are required to complete internship courses as part of their degree requirements. The Internship I is typically undertaken in the summer semester of year 2 (100 working hours) and Internship II is undertaken in the summer semester of year 3 (240 working hours). For the Internship courses, academic supervisor of the student/intern collaborates with the field supervisor of the training organization.

The university has strong links with industry and works closely with a wide range of organizations to provide students with meaningful internship opportunities. The Internship and Career Development Office assists students in finding suitable internships and provides them with the necessary support and guidance throughout the internship period.

Gulf University encourages students to engage in research activities under the guidance of faculty members. Student research is an integral part of the learning process and provides students with an opportunity to explore their interests, develop critical thinking skills, and contribute to the body of knowledge in their field.

All student research must be conducted in accordance with the university's research ethics policy. Students must obtain ethical approval for their research projects before they begin collecting data. The university provides training and support to students to ensure that they conduct their research in an ethical and responsible manner.

Students are encouraged to publish their research findings in academic journals and to present their work at conferences. The university provides financial support to students for publishing their research and for participating in conferences.

Research Policy

Research Procedures

4.13 Graduation Requirements

To be eligible for graduation from Gulf University, students must successfully pass all courses specified in their program of study and achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average (CGPA) of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale. The minimum passing grade for each course is 60%, equivalent to a letter grade of 'D'.

Students must complete their program within the specified study period, which ranges from a minimum of three years to a maximum of seven years for bachelor's degree programs. An extension of one academic year may be granted by the University Council under exceptional circumstances. Upon successful completion of all requirements, students will be awarded their respective degrees during the university's graduation ceremony.

Students are encouraged to publish their research findings in academic journals and to present their work at conferences. The university provides financial support to students for publishing their research and for participating in conferences.
